

From New York to Vegas

Kayla Ibragimtchaev

The groggy and stuffy air

To the dry and hot air

The snow storms every winter

To the sand storms every summer

The beaches every summer

To the Strip every winter

The cheering for the Giants

To still cheering for the Giants

Some things change...

But some stay the same